Honor Societies

NATIONAL Honor Society continued this year taking its usual active part in school affairs. Supervising the school's annual Red Cross drive, the organization achieved remarkable success. As a Christmas project, the club acted as the Junior Red Cross agent, collecting toys, magazines, and candy to send to the Soldiers' Orphans Home in Davenport, Iowa.

Membership in this national organization is based on four cardinal objectives: Character, scholarship, leadership and service.

Officers are: Joe Taylor, president; Doris Plagge, vice-president; Florence Byrnes, secretary; Dorothy Cunningham, treasurer. Miss Helen Mackin and Miss Lelah Spatz are the sponsors.

DORIS PLAGGE, '38

QUILL and Scroll is an international honorary society, founded to reward worthy high school journalists. Students of Ames High may enter the local chapter by their outstanding work on the Web, or the Spirit staff.

Officers elected by the organization for the year 1937-38 were: president, Bob Shearer; vice-president, Edalee Gastrock; secretary-treasurer, Marie Anderson.

BOB SHEARER, '38.

Glee Clubs

ALTHOUGH the Boys' Glee Club is the smallest of the three vocal music groups of Ames High, it is a very active and versatile organization.

The group participated in the production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and in the March concert of all vocal organizations.

The officers are Bill O'Neil, president; Bob Crosley, vice-president; Charles Speck, secretary; and Kirk McGuire, librarian.

BILL O'NEIL, '39.

THE Girls' Glee Club, turning aside this year from its previous program of concentration on contest work, has given much of its attention to individual training.

One of the highlights this year for the Girls' Glee Club was the impressive Candlelight Service, given the afternoon before Christmas vacation began. A successful program was given on March 25 in cooperation with the Mixed Chorus and Boys' Glee Club. Officers were: Bettejane Kern, president; Dorothy Sampson, vice-president; Thelma Shipp, secretary; and Mary Lou Springer, librarian.

Mixed Chorus

GUIDED by Bill Jones as president, Charlotte Hein as vice-president, Mary Hendrickson as librarian, and Dorothy Cunningham as secretary-treasurer, and instructed by Miss Edna Bower, the Mixed Chorus of 1937-38 was destined to become a superior group.

The first six weeks were spent in voice training, and in November the music and dramatic departments presented "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The combined music organizations sang negro spirituals and modern music of that character which lent a little more realism to the southern plantation setting.

The second performance of Mixed Chorus was the annual Christmas program given at the Methodist Church, which scored another success for the group.

The new schedule brought difficulties in practicing, and because of the many conflicts, participation in contest had to be omitted this year. To replace this yearly thrill, new robes were purchased for the members, and to pay for these, a benefit concert was given in March.

The County Festival and several church programs brought the season to a close. And so, with a successful year behind them, the seniors bequeath to the under-classmen their treasured instructor, a library of beautiful music, and a name they may be proud to carry on.

Dramatic Club

REMINISCENCES of slavery, negro spirituals, the villainy of the heartless Legree, the cries of Eliza as she escapes over the ice, and the dramatic activities of Ames High are under way with the perennial favorite "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Under the direction of L. Wayne Smith, a most capable new staff member of the dramatic department, the play was produced with great facility and finesse. The cast, numbering two hundred, was one of the largest ever assembled for high school production. Not only was this an assemblage of a great cast, but it was attended by a very large audience. The production was supported by unusually capable technical crews and an active publicity department, as well as talent from the music division.

The officers of the club for this year are as follows: president, Dick Mathison; vice-president, Ora Clark; secretary, Barbara Giese; treasurer, Kathleen Kildee; make-up manager, Mary Taff; business manager, Marie Anderson; publicity manager, Doris Plagge.

Judging from the success of these plays, one may look forward to any of Mr. Smith's productions.

THE Ames High band has made fine improvement this school year. Our aim of a more perfect instrumentation and better music has been more nearly accomplished this year than in any other year of Band history. Our aims are steadily advancing, and we are enjoying our work and recreation. The concert band is composed of sixty members and five substitutes. Forty-five of these are in high school.

The officers of the band this year are: Norman Fulmer, president; Bill Eichling, vice-president; Ellis Butler, secretary; and Richard Thompson, librarian.

The marching band played at all home football games and demonstrated many new formations. In the fall we secured new drum majors' uniforms and on Armistice Day went to Boone for the Boone-Ames football game. The Pep Band played for all home basketball games. Since the first of the year, the band has rehearsed in the music pavilion. The Dance Carnival, sponsored by the Band and Orchestra Parents Association, helped raise money for the new uniforms which we plan to secure next fall. The concert band received an invitation to play for the State Teachers' Convention in Des Moines, November, 1938.

The Third Annual Home Solo Contest was very successful with forty participating in fifteen divisions. The concert band entered the state music contests. Our masterwork this year was "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven; we also have quite a variety of numbers in our repertoire. This year two small groups were entered in the state music contest: the French woodwind quintet and the brass sextet.

In April the concert band presented its annual spring concert. Many of the band members participated in the Story County Music Festival. We are looking forward to a better band next year with the fine foundation which we have built up this year.

Ames High Swingsters and Orchestra

THE Ames High Swingsters' organization came into being this year under the direction of Mr. Day. In return for playing at the matinee dances, the swingsters were furnished with music by the school. In addition to playing at the matinee dances, the band played at a theater party for the football team at the Collegian theater on December 4th, and at the Band Parents' Benefit Dance on February 4th at the Fieldhouse.

ELLIS BUTLER, '39.

INSTEAD of dreaming during the last dramatic moments of the three high school plays, orchestra members busied themselves finding the next piece. We gladly overlooked this inconvenience, however, due to the excellent seats given us; a one-fourth cut in the proceeds was not the least of our many advantages this year.

Other appearances were made at Commencement and Baccalaureate.

The Ames High Theater Orchestra differs from the All-School Symphony Orchestra of former years in that it plays a lighter type of music and is made up only of high school students.

Hi-Y

THE Hi-Y this year had as its purpose the idea of creating friendship between boys and girls and the goal of helping others. Meetings held during the year were very successful in many ways. Firesides were held for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. At these firesides the boys had entertainment, meetings, and food. The turnouts for these firesides were fine, and the purpose of the Hi-Y was being established.

A few of the Hi-Y cabinet had the pleasure of attending the state Hi-Y Convention in Davenport, for the purpose of learning new ways of bettering our Hi-Y and gaining friendships. While attending, those present went on a tour, attended classes, and went to a football game. In all, a very fine time was had.

Many activities were carried on this year by the Hi-Y, including candy sales at all football and basketball games, firesides, a vocational fireside, a Father-Son banquet, and the traditional "Big Brother" aid to new students. This year the boys again cooperated with the Girl Reserves in holding the Friendship Conference with the Rev. Mr. Feller of Sioux City as speaker. Of all the works of the Hi-Y, probably the finest are the giving of Thanksgiving baskets to the more unfortunate of Ames, and the preparation of Christmas gifts for the inmates of the County Home. The boys agree that they derived as much pleasure from the gifts as the recipients did.

The students this year enjoyed the opportunity of hearing a "G" man from Des Moines. He was a very able speaker and an inspiration to all high school students. His fine ideas should have been a "push" for every student who has hopes of going the right way.

The success of this year is due to the fine help from the students and teachers and the aid of the sponsor, Mr. Wells. With such fine backing it is hardly possible for a group to do anything but go forward. Mr. Wells has been here but a few years, but with his help and the aid of Mr. Donels, the Hi-Y realizes the importance of fine men in young folks' activities.

Officers for the first semester were Milton Willcox, president; Bill Jones, vice-president; Dick Hummel, secretary; and Kenneth West, treasurer. During the second semester, the officers were Bill Jones, president; Kenneth Donelson, vice-president; Bob Christensen, secretary; and Harry Skerry, treasurer.

MILTON WILLCOX, '38.

Girl Reserve

"I will do my best to honor God, my country, and my community, to help other girls, and to be in all ways a loyal, true member of Girl Reserve" is the goal of every true Girl Reserve.

Following initiation of new members into Girl Reserve, which was held at the Methodist Church last fall, Girl Reserve began a very successful but broken-up year because of the new school program.

At Thanksgiving time Girl Reserve and Hi-Y sponsored the annual Thanksgiving basket program in which each homeroom was assigned to provide a Thanksgiving dinner for one unfortunate family of Ames. Many beautifully decorated baskets, "filled to the brims," appeared on the stage when they were given to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to distribute.

The Woodchoppers Convention at Lynn Fuhrer Lodge—How every member of the Girl Reserve and Hi-Y cabinet looks forward to it! The fellows went out early in the morning and began to chop the wood. Later the girls came out with the dinner. After dinner they all gathered around the fireplace to discuss and plan the Friendship Conference which was to be the week of February 15-19. Later the speaker was selected by representatives of Girl Reserve and Hi-Y.

Not only students, but also parents, enjoyed the talks by the Rev. J. E. Feller of Sioux City. His theme for the week was "Life Questions." Friendship Week was very inspirational for the students.

The Dad-Daughter party and the Mother-Daughter tea were highlights of the year.

For a Christmas project, boxes were made up by individuals or groups who wished to do something for the old folks at the County Home. Selling holly wreaths offered the girls a fine way of making money for the organization. It proved to be an excellent means of satisfying the public as well as helping the girls.

Through the untiring efforts of Miss White and Miss Stoaks, the Girl Reserve organization has again come through a very successful year.

Officers for the first semester were Helen Nichol, president; Elizabeth Sweeney, vice-president; Barbara Penney, secretary; and Adelaide Richardson, treasurer. During the second semester Elizabeth Sweeney was president and Helen Nichol was vice-president.

Library Club

LIBRARY Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Damman, has complete charge of all library work: filing and checking out of books and magazines, reference material, and bulletin boards.

Because of the change in schedule, several readjustments were necessary. Many books were put into dead storage to make room on the shelves for Central's library. Special projects completed this year were taking of inventory, cataloging of books, checkup of classification and accession numbers, and the reshelving of books.

An outline of instructions drawn up by Miss Damman and distributed to all student helpers at the beginning of the year gave directions for carrying on the work in the library.

Each of the thirty-two members is required to work two periods a week in the library. There are two girls stationed there every period of the day. Credit toward graduation is given on the basis of work done and regular attendance at all meetings.

A scrap-book of clippings on the Ames schools from the Des Moines papers and the Ames Tribune was kept.

Short meetings were held after school hours for special instructions. Regular meetings, taking the form of pot-luck suppers or picnics were held for both recreational and business purposes.

Officers of the Library Club are Jeane Stange, president; Mildred McIlrath, secretary-treasurer; and Helen Nichol, program director.

MILDRED MCILRATH, '38.

Art Club

CHARCOAL smudged noses, paint bespeckled clothes, multi-colored fingers—the members of Art Club, though totally sane and rational, are quite a fantastic looking group when delving into the mysteries of expressing ideas by pictures. But regardless of the humorous appearance made by said smudges and splatters, the paint brush wielders have a serious problem: to learn the intricacies of expression in only two classes a week.

The club, under the guidance of Mr. Lorenz, now works as a group on assigned projects instead of on subjects and "masterpieces" of their own choosing as formerly done. By assigning a particular medium of expression, Mr. Lorenz feels that greater versatility can be acquired.

Another recently inaugurated program is the requirement of thumb-nail sketches to be done outside of class, and woe to the lackadaisical lad or lass who dreamed of evenings free from assignments.

Contrary to most suppositions, being able to copy sketches and paintings is not the main test of an artist's talent. Instead, his originality should be worth more than the ability to "just draw." Following this method of reasoning, Art Clubbers are seldom allowed to copy; most of their work is "inspirational."

Wash drawings, pen and ink sketches, charcoal portraits, chalk, and crayon work, all number in the routine of the Ames-hi-would-be-artist together with the old stand-bys, oil and water colors.

Like so many sheep surrounding an obstacle placed in their path, art students mill around the supply desk as a typical lesson begins. Girlish giggles, boyish chuckles, talking and chattering like a convention of magpies, finally settling to careful concentration and then to a scratching or swishing as work gets under way. There's a whisper here, a comment there, a sigh from one corner and a yawn from another. A chalk is snapped in two, a jar of water frolics to the floor, a moan is heard, a feminine squeal, and the future artists draw blissfully on.

The group is not organized as a regular club with activities outside of class. Thus office-holders have merely an honorary "job." The chief paint splasher (president) is Mary Minott. Second in rank comes Gene Reynolds as vice-president, followed by Edalee Gastrock as secretary and Genevieve McCarthy as treasurer.

Pep Club and Gheer Squad

WITH "Ish-piddley" and "A-m-e-s" ringing in the ears of 1938, this year's Pep Club disperses. Named one of the peppiest groups to wear the orange and black, the club made a name for itself, not only in Ames, but throughout the state.

At the end of each year thirty-six girls are chosen, eighteen seniors, twelve juniors, and six sophomores. They are selected for their pep and school spirit and make up the Ames High Pep Club for the following year.

This year the girls performed between halves of the football games. During the football season in cooperation with the marching band, the club did formation marching. Basketball season saw not only boys' basketball but also a demonstration by Pep Club of the cage game played by girls.

The social side of the club was monopolized by a joint party of the Varsity Club and Pep Club. This has now become an annual affair.

Cheer squad was composed of Jean Van Scoy, Marni Reynolds, and Dick Gernes.

Pep Club and Cheer Squad are under the advisership of Miss Helen Hadish and Miss Alvira Lunsford.

The following girls were officers of the club: president, Jean Van Scoy; vice-president, Marie Anderson; secretary, Bettejane Kern; and treasurer, Mary Taff.

BETTEJANE KERN, '38.

Varsity Club

THE Varsity Club is an athletic association composed of major letter winners in football, basketball, golf, tennis, and track. The sponsor of the club is Mr. Donels. Officers are Joe Taylor, president; Jed Johnson, vice-president; John O'Neil, secretary-treasurer; Don Smith, historian.

There are many Varsity Club activities. In the fall was held the initiation of new members of the club, thirteen football players, and one track man. There is now a total of thirty-six members in the club. Pep Club and Varsity Club held a joint party, skating until supper. After supper they attended the Collegian theater for a double feature motion picture. Another initiation of new members taken from the basketball, track, tennis, and golf squads, was held in the spring. On Memorial Day the club will hold its annual picnic at Lake Comar. Each member is allowed to bring one guest.

The Varsity Club secures its funds from club dues, intramural finals, and the basketball game between the '36 state basketball champions and '38 varsity squad. From this game the club received $31.50.

The money is spent for many different projects, such as the upkeep of the recreational skating rink. Thirteen dollars was spent for labor on the ice, fine hockey sticks, two pucks, and an ice broom. The basketball and wrestling intramural monograms are bought from these funds. The trophy which will be given at the invitational tennis meet, May 7, was also provided for. Forty-four "A" club certificates were given to the seniors during an assembly for winning major letters last year. These will again be an expense this year. The "A" Club also awards the "A" pin to the person rendering the most distinguished service to the school throughout the three years in Ames High.

Debate Club

THIS year found debaters all over the country arguing over the ever-important question: "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a unicameral system of legislation." Members of the Ames High Debate Club were not exceptions. The financing of the club was taken care of by the members' acting as the publicity squad for the school play "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and receiving a share of the profits. This was the first year the club has participated in an activity of this kind, having formerly received funds from the sale of football programs.

The first trip of the year was made to a conference at Iowa City. The main purposes of the conference were to familiarize debaters with the question and to instruct them about debating. Representing Ames were Don Radcliffe, Ronald Ross, Richard Steinberg, and Spencer Vanderlinden.

Newton was the second city to be aware of the presence of the Ames debaters. Those on hand were David Gilman, William Eichling, Ross, and Vanderlinden. Out of sixteen debates, Ames won ten victories.

Carrying the banners for Ames High at the Fort Dodge tournament were Eichling, Ross, Steinberg, and Vanderlinden. With over twenty schools participating, Ames ranked third by winning six out of eight debates. Ronald Ross was awarded the "A" cup for being the outstanding speaker of the tournament. With well over one hundred debaters contending, he won it, according to the judges' ratings, by a good margin.

At the sectional tournament at Oelwein, our representatives were Eichling, Dick McCarthy, and Vanderlinden, with Ross and Steinberg filling jointly the fourth position. Losing out in the last round of this tournament, Ames was ruled ineligible for the state tournament.

During the year we were glad to have as guests the debate squad from the Eldora Training School and four teams from Newton. Non-decision debates for practice were held with these schools.

The latter part of the year was spent in the study of the theory of debate and in discussing the question for the following year.

Girls' Athletic Association

EXACTLY 100 girls have participated in the activities sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association of Ames High, which is a member of the state organization.

Any high school girl may participate in the activities, but to become an active member she must have earned at least 100 points. She is then entitled to wear the G.A.A. pin.

A minor "A" is awarded to the girls who earn 500 points as specified. To receive a major "A" she must have earned a second 500 points. If she is still active and shows interest in G.A.A. after the major award, she is awarded a pillow top.

In the volleyball tournament the seniors won a hard fought battle in which a determined junior team almost dashed the hopes of the seniors. The sophomores showed great promise and we do not care to predict what will happen next year.

The officers for the past year have been: Mildred Severson, president; Jean Hug, vice-president; Bettejane Kern, secretary-treasurer; Marjorie Ann Rupe, social chairman; Lucille Cox and Marjorie Arrasmith, point recorders.

Under the guidance of Miss Alvira Lunsford, sponsor, the G. A. A. has had a most successful year. May the coming years be even better than this one.

Athletic Managers and Intramurals

BADMINTON started the 1937-38 intramural season of Ames High. As badminton and ping-pong were played by ladders, and no tournaments were held, champions of these intramural sports were not crowned.

Homerooms 104, 101, 105 and the faculty met in the first semester playoff in basketball, the flashy faculty team led by Mr. Ritland and Mr. Donels emerging as victors.

As half-day schedules were introduced in the second semester, the afternoon P.T. classes were turned into intramural leagues. The winners of these leagues were Christensen's Wildcats, O'Neil's Midgets, and Keltner's Wildcats.

Boxing, wrestling, and apparatus were also introduced into the second semester intramural program. This is a new group at Ames High and met with much success. A special wrestling tournament was also held in connection with this group.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Swedell, as intramural director, and Bob Iverson and Howard Zimmerman, as intramural managers, on their fine work in making the 1937-38 intramural season the most successful one in the school's history.

First Team Football

CHAMPIONS of the Central Iowa Conference, undefeated and untied in eight games, Ames High's 1937 football team compiled an enviable record during Ray Donels' last year as coach at the high school.

Starting with nine lettermen and a bright outlook, the squad improved and showed signs of real strength when they came from behind to trounce otherwise undefeated East Sioux City.

Surviving a mid-season letdown, the team fought its way past a Perry powerhouse and climaxed the season with a wild victory over the arch-rivals, Boone.

On a hot September Saturday afternoon the team journeyed to Des Moines to open the season with a 37 to 0 victory over Lincoln High.

A much-improved team initiated night football into Ames with a 59 to 0 win over Eldora Training School.

East scored first in the game played under the lights of the Stockyards Ball Park in Sioux City. Ames, however, lost no time in making up for this early lead. George Underwood gave the large crowd a thrill when, aided by perfect blocking, he crossed the goal line untouched on a 75-yard punt return.

A steady drizzle didn't keep a large Ames following from watching the Little Cyclones while Marshalltown lost on the Bobcats' field 6 to 0, in a night game.

Ames squeezed out another narrow victory in the second home game, defeating Oskaloosa 7 to 0.

In the home game of the season Ames outfought a mighty Perry team, 14 to 7, before a capacity crowd that included many Bluejay fans.

Grinnell came and went, 51 to 0.

Boone and Ames alike jammed the Boone field Armistice afternoon to watch the Little Cyclones finish the season in a blaze of glory, 52 to 0.

Milton Willcox was elected honorary captain after the game.

Second Team Football

SECOND team football is promoted at Ames High in order to build for future years and to give the younger boys in high school a chance to play. A schedule of games is arranged to give them actual game experience, so they won't be quite so green when they begin first team play. Very few boys have made the first team without first having played a year on the second team. The second team learns some of the first team plays and formations, but is primarily to teach the boys the fundamentals of the game.

Winning second teams are a habit at Ames High, and the 1937 team was no exception. After losing the opening game to Colo High's first team, the seconds went on to win four out of the six remaining games. One of the two losses was to the Marshalltown seconds, 6 to 0. The other, a 12 to 7 battle with Boone's second team, was later avenged, 7 to 0.

Several boys showed promise of becoming good first string material next year. Russ Truesdell was said to be the "fifth man in the opponent's backfield" all year, constantly breaking through and spoiling the opposing team's plays before they got started. Burton Shoen and Bob Posegate presented a stone wall to any defense. Bob Vifquain and Warren Buck looked good as ends, as did Charles Speck at tackle. In the backfield Hubert Ruggles gave indications that he would either take over the quarterback's job on the first team because of his blocking ability, or the full-back's because of his plunging power. Ed Morris stood out as a deadly open-field tackler. Ben Ross was the ball carrier, and a good one. Dick Bliss was the blocking half.

Basketball

THE 1937-38 basketball team at Ames High qualifies, without doubt, as one of the two best teams in the history of the school, the other being the 1936 champions. Winning 21 out of 23 contests, they shared the Central Iowa Conference title, rolled through sectional and district tournaments, and wound up in third place in the state finals.

An early season setback at the hands of Marshalltown forced the Little Cyclones to share first position in the conference with that team. Ames, however, avenged the defeat in a later game. On the following night Roosevelt High of Des Moines was held to a single field goal in the second half of a 26 to 14 game.

Judd Thompson was elected honorary captain at the close of the season.

Spring Sports

THE 1938 track team at Ames High promised to be the best in the history of the school. The season was opened with a first place in a quadrangular meet with Marshalltown, Fort Dodge, and Oskaloosa. Then, in spite of an accident which put out Norman Pedersen, who had won four events in the first meet, the team went on to place fourth in the state indoor meet. The remainder of the schedule included the Valley Relays in West Des Moines, the Drake Relays, the State Teacher's College Relays, the Grinnell Interscholastic Meet, the conference meet, and the state outdoor meet.

AMES High presented a well-balanced golf team in the spring of 1938. In the first meet of the season, a triangular affair with Fort Dodge and Boone, Ames finished second to the exceptionally strong Boone team. The remainder of the schedule included dual meets with Fort Dodge, Ankeny, and Roosevelt of Des Moines. The golfers also played in three quadrangular meets, one with Teacher's High at Cedar Falls, East and West Waterloo, another with Boone, Fort Dodge, and Lincoln of Des Moines, and the third with Grinnell, Eldora, and Roosevelt. The conference meet completed the schedule.

TENNIS prospects were quite promising at Ames High in 1938. Ronald Ross, who won a letter as a singles player last year, and Kenneth Donelson, a sophomore, promised the '38 team two strong singles players. The schedule included dual meets with Boone, Fort Dodge, East, North and Roosevelt of Des Moines. Ames also played in a quadrangular meet with Teacher's High at Cedar Falls, East and West Waterloo, in the conference meet, and in an invitational meet with Boone, Fort Dodge, West Waterloo, Teacher's College High, East, North and Roosevelt of Des Moines.

FEATURES

September 13—School Opens.
 Today our vacation has ended.
 Another long year has begun.
 A year filled with hours of study,
 But plenty of chances for fun:

The pep club, and football, and glee clubs,
 The matinee dances, and plays,
 (With a liberal sprinkling of classes)—
 Nine months of the busiest days!

October 29—Homecoming
 The Homecoming crowds jammed the bleachers;
 They cheered and they hollered and yelled
 While a championship Ames High eleven
 Made scrambled eggs out of Grinnell.

Our fellows played rip-roaring football.
 They proved they could pass, kick and run.

And their blocking marked this on the records:
 Grinnell, nothing; Ames, fifty-one.

November 11—Boone Game
 The game was the last of the season;
 The day was both windy and cold.
 The Rotary trophy went traveling,
 And over to Ames High it rolled.

The Boone team was watchfully waiting
 For a chance to win over all.
 But while they were watching and waiting,
 Ames High ran away with the ball.

November 19, 20—Uncle Tom's Cabin
 We flocked to the Field House to witness
 L. Wayne's first production in Ames.
 The "dramma" was "Uncle Tom's Cabin"
 With a cast of familiar names.

There were Eva and Tom and Topsy
 And sneering old Simon Legree.
 Choral readers furnished the background,
 And the orchestra helped musically.

November 24—Thanksgiving Assembly
 We observed the Thanksgiving tradition
 Of both Girl Reserves and Hi-Y:
 We piled bushel baskets with good things—
 Cranberries, turkey and pie.

Then we presented the baskets,
 In assembly, to the Jaycees
 Who gave them to those who don't have
 As much to give thanks for as we.

December 23—Christmas Program
We all know the beautiful story
Of the very first Christmas day,
But it never is just quite so lovely
As when told in the musical way.

By the light of flickering candles,
With both soothing and joyful songs,
The glee club set a reverent spirit
To last the whole season long.

January 20—"Caribbean Cruise"
We forgot for a while about winter,
And sailed for an evening of fun—
A cruise to the bright Caribbean,
Those islands of warm, sparkling sun.

While turtles and gay-colored fishes
Swam about in the tropical seas,
We danced to the strains of sweet music,
Borne by a balmy breeze.

January 24—Ooooooooooh!
We were waked by the scream of alarm
clocks,
Long before breaking of day;
We staggered to school in the darkness
With lanterns to help light the way.

Our stomachs were empty (no breakfast);
Our eyelids were heavy (no sleep).
Up before six, classes 'til noon—
What terrible hours to keep!

February 14-18—Friendship Week
The Hi-Y and Girl Reserve conference,
Our annual Friendship Week—
Was built on the theme of "Life Questions."
Reverend Feller was chosen to speak.

His talks gave us new inspiration,
New ideals, new hopes, and new thoughts
Though he may have been little in stature,
His ideas were certainly not!

March 10-12—State B.B. Tournament
We crashed through the sectional and district.

Expectations were running sky-high
When the fellows went on to the finals.
(We may not be champs, but we tried!)

We cleaned up on Burlington, Bennett,
But Diagonal just couldn't wait
Before sweeping on to be champions.
But we're still the best team in the state!

April 29—Band Concert

With a flash and a flourish of bugles—
Make way for the band—here they come!
With the bold, brassy blare of the trumpets,
And a rat-a-tat on the drums!

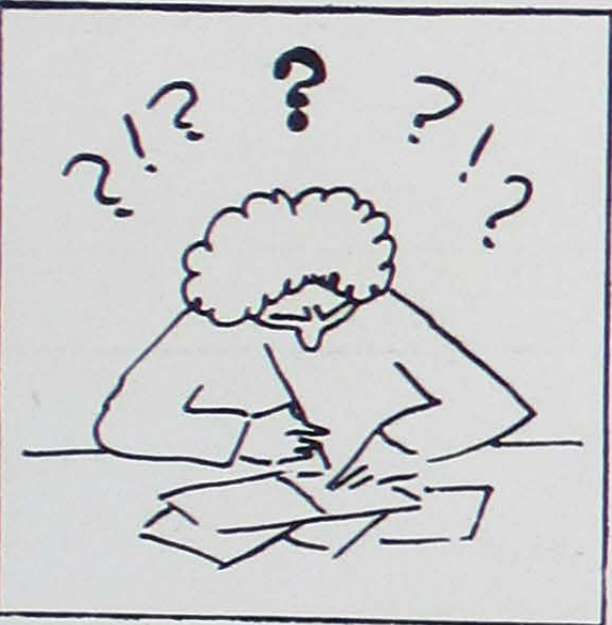

The masterly twirling of batons
Displayed by our drum majors three,
And the trio of cornets were features
Of an evening of "Rhythmic Rhapsody"!

May 6—Conference Track Meet

The boys took their best track suit with 'em

They hoped it would help them to run.
And they wanted to look at their nicest,
If their pitchers were took, if they won.

They ran with precision and rhythm.
They took proper galloping strides.
They floated o'er hurdles and cross-bars.
They may not be champs, but they tried!

May 9-10—Every Pupil Tests

Who was the eighth king of Lapland?
How many legs has a flea?
At sea level, what's the air pressure?
What is a hyperbole?

We scratched and we squirmed and we grunted.

Those tests were so hard—and so long!
But we pulled a joke on the teachers:
We wrote all the answers wrong!

May 25—Junior-Senior Frolic

A whirling pageant of color!
The girls, in their flower-like gowns,
The boys, in black coats and white
trousers,
Went whirling gayly around.

Music to set your foot tapping,
'Neath romantically soft-colored lights--
The last high school dance for the seniors--
And did we make the most of that night!

21016

May 22, 27—Senior Week

This last week is crowded with doings:
The breakfast, the senior class play,
Impressive Baccalaureate service,
And the final Commencement Day.

For the solemn and serious seniors
Dressed in their black caps and gowns,
This was their last week in high school.
Next week they'll be out on their own!

funnier ones.

If we don't, the staff is called a

If we don't print contributions, we are accused of not having proper ap-

If we do, the book is filled with junk.

If we publish original matter, it's

If we publish stuff from other an-

Recipe for a Perfect Teacher

Take one part each of:

Mr. Turner's informality.
Miss White's way of making you feel important
Miss Hadish's net stockings
Mr. Swedell's tendency toward procrastinating argument
Miss Mackin's "human chatterbox" way of speaking
Miss Wilcox's indestructible calm
Mr. Harms' poker face
Miss Spatz's giggle
Miss Canvin—"All of Me, Why Not Take All of Me?"

And equal amounts of:

Mrs. Miller's motherly attitude
Mr. Donels' man-to-man air
Miss Stoaks' ability to be persuaded
Mr. Benz's way with the ladies
Miss Braunwarth's stance (hand on hip and jaw outthrust)
Miss Hartsook's "Timid Soul"
Miss Lunsford's whistle (through her teeth)
Miss Hunter's tomboyishness
Miss Nelson's little-girl look (for the benefit of all male students.)
Mr. Smith's charm (for the benefit of all female students)
Mr. Wells' boyish, bouncing exuberance

IDEAL LITERATURE TEST

True and False—

1. John Bunyan invented Blue Jay corn plasters.
2. Robert Burns entered the cigar business after he graduated from college.
3. Uncle Tom's Cabin is a fishing lodge in Minnesota.
4. King Arthur was the leader of the Knuts of the Round Table.
5. Homer wrote the Oddity.
6. Alexander Pope wrote mainly in heroic cutlets.
7. Three tragedies by Shakespeare are: Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet, and Twelve Nights in a Barroom.
8. Robert Stevenson wrote "Travels with a Donkey" while on his honeymoon.
9. Robert Burns had one son whose name was Hoot Mon.
10. Tennyson suffered from gout and therefore wrote all his poems in iambic feet.

What We Don't Know Never Happened

We know:

What the King and Judd Thompson were laughing about so hilariously in the office on a certain Tuesday in March.

How Hermi Bailey does it.

The name of the person who put that wad of gum on Supt. Larson's seat at the state basketball tournament.

That Supt. Larson knows the same person by several other names.

What Milt and Thelly were doing in the back row of the Collegian last Saturday night.

Why Mr. Harms finally let Elizabeth Sweeney pass a chem. test.

A man who won a bet on the Diagonal-Ames game.

What color of nail polish Al Rothacker prefers.

What Helen Nichol said when she discovered that snap of a certain portion of her anatomy which is displayed so publicly on page 70.

What well-known track man was seen pushing a baby carriage around the Field House track one day last spring.

But . . . .

We would give six bits to find out who put the soap on Mildred McIlrath's shoes when she did her tango at the "Cruise".

Seventy-Two

Breathes there a girl with soul so dead

Who never to herself hath said:

The folks aren't waiting up for me, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Umm! I look sorta classy in this bathing suit if I do say so m'self.

What's she got that I ain't got?
Should I let him?

Faculty I. Q.

To prove how bright and brilliant our faculty is, we asked them this question: "What is the difference between slander and libel?" These are the answers we got:

Mr. Young: Slander is when a girl has a nice figger, and a libel is the paper wrapping on a can to tell what's inside.

Mr. Wells: Slanders are what you have left from the coal you burn in your furnace, and Libel is Don Minert's brother.

Mr. Harms: Slanders are little sort of vermillion colored lizards, and libel—Well, I don't know what that is, but if you'd asked me what a doorbel is, I coulda told you.

Miss Mackin: Slanders are sort of shoes without any toes in them, and libel is a sort of a wave, or flood that the moon brings in along the shore.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You will not curse or swear in a loud voice during assembly. If you do not like the speaker, confine yourself to such remarks as "Phooey" or "Raspberries."

You will not throw a girl out of a seat in the bus in order to sit down yourself. Neither will you sit down on her lap without first removing your hat.

You will not murder an acquaintance whose personality is distasteful to you. Knocking him down and caving in his slats will be sufficient evidence of your displeasure. If you do this with an automobile, you can recount the act tersely by the conventional "I ran across an acquaintance today."

In reaching for food at a formal dinner, you will keep both feet on the floor. At a private dinner, one foot is considered sufficient.

Principal Recommends Students Use Leisure For Social Activities

"The inviting spring weather is a temptation to students to neglect their studies for more enjoyable activities out-of-doors. My advice to them is to yield to that temptation," said Principal Verne M. Young in an interview Monday.

"The years when they are in high school are the happiest time in the lives of young men and women. They should be savoring their youth to the full, instead of aging prematurely over books."

"The most vital part of a young person's education is not academic learning, but learning to associate with his fellow men. The lessons in co-operation and successful social living gained through pleasant activity with those of his own age are invaluable."

"I know that the faculty will agree with me that strict preparation of assignments should be placed second to the students' pleasure in picnics, rides, or parties."

Robert Ash Injures Thumb

Robert B. Ash, Ames High tackle, was seriously injured in an accident which occurred at his home at 419 Ninth street Wednesday morning.

Robert was peeling a grape for his lunch when his thumb slipped. The accident resulted in a badly sprained thumb, which will be in splints for two weeks.

"Moke" To Raffle Motorcycle Rides

To gain funds for new tires and a tenor siren for his motorcycle, a raffle has been inaugurated by Maurice "Moke" Christensen, owner of Ames High's only streamlined velocipede.

Contestants are to enter guesses on the number of yards of string "Moke" has saved. The ball of cord will be exhibited in a glass case at the west door. Tickets may be purchased from the attendant stationed there, and guesses entered on "Moke's" books at any time.

The two contestants whose guesses are most nearly correct will receive free rides on the motorcycle, complete with goggles, siren, and 45-degree turns. Winners will be announced Friday, May 27.

Ora Clark Entertains Club Members Tuesday

Miss Ora Clark entertained the members of the Beginners' Division of the Eager Equestriennes at a combined party and business meeting at her home at 222 Divine street Tuesday evening.

Following a short business meeting, games were played.

Decorations were tastefully carried out in a color scheme of black and blue. Refreshments were served from the mantel.

Guests were the Misses Peggy Helser, Mariloras Kennedy, Helen Nichol, Doris Plagge, and Edalee Gastrock.

OUR OWN PULITZER PRIZE WINNERS

Mr. Harms (during fire drill): George, you hold the door open and the rest of you pass out.

Ora Clark: I missed a golden opportunity to sell programs and peanuts at the fire at Margaret Hall.

Don Radcliffe (after being asked how he was doing in civics): Oh, I'm Mackin my way.

Genevieve Kirkpatrick: There are two kinds of culture—material and immaterial.

Mr. Donels (after the metal wastebasket had been upset): Who kicked the bucket?

Jim Merrick (when asked in study hall if he had something to do): Yeah, sleep.

Unknown (viewing the ruins of Central): Looks as if there had been a pre-view showing of "The Hurricane."

Unknown: What foos we mortals be.—Shakespoo.

Ames High Hall of Fame

RICHARD BRAUN

Because he has perfected a masterly system of quick trips to the joint across the street, and practices his system more consistently and more successfully than anyone in school.

DON RADCLIFFE

Because he never allows study hall restrictions to dampen his buoyant spirits.

PEGGY STAFFORD

Because she has dimples in her knees.

GEORGE UNDERWOOD

Not everybody with brains is included here. But because he is so supremely conscious of those he has, we give this bit of space to our "Galloping Ghost of the Gridiron." And also because he believes himself to be the ultimate ambition of the feminine population of the Midwest.

BILL LAPP

Because he can do more tricks with that sax than Popeye can with a can of spinach.

JEANNE KNIGHT

Because, within two weeks after her arrival, this charming stranger had appropriated our Leading Athlete.

DON WILKINS

Because the feature editor has a secret passion for red hair.

BARBARA DAVIS

Because that little voice and those neat ankles are an efficient disguise for an astonishing amount of brains.

HERMI BAILEY

Because he has consistently upheld the traditions of male superiority.

HAROLD KNIGHT

Maybe you don't know who he is, but he thinks you do, so we put this in to help him out.

HERBIE RUGGLES

Because he is Ames High's little fairy.

BARBARA GIESE

Because those amazing eyelashes are actually her own.

JIM MERRICK

Because he is so experienced that he's just a little afraid of his own wickedness.

DON MINERT

Because he needs a little publicity.

DOROTHY PRUITT

Because she has a double-jointed instep. (Get her to show it to you).

CHARLES RICE

Because, if you asked our feminine students to name the handsomest senior, in one breath would they chorus: "Charles Rice!"

MARY JANE CUE

Because any girl who can look as frail and dependent as she does, and then turn around and smack out a couple home runs deserves all the credit she can get.

GEORGE B. COOVER

Because of his heart-stirring performance of the gardener in "Tons of Money", and because his sparkling wit helped to brighten the meetings of the first semester social committee.

BOB VIFQUAIN

Because this sophomore is a young man on the make.

BILLIE BROOKER

'Nuff said.

RICHARD STEINBERG

Because 89% of the student body and 86% of the teachers are just a little in awe of him.

MARY AND MARJORIE TAFF

Because they have so nobly carried on the old family traditions set by Awee and Jeanne.
